ABOUT ME

My name is Stephen, or Steve. Our motto "It's a designer" from Western New York.

I have been a designer for twenty-five years, specializing in information design, brand identity, and illustration. I have experience in the fields of education, finance, and market-facing. My current focus is on the intersection of the education, finance, and market-facing fields. I am a Senior Designer at Northeast Technology Partners, a company that specializes in data analytics.
